Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-4 are indefinite as to the term "approximately". Such term fails to set forth the exact nature of the claimed invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Lang (US 6,582,721) for the reasons set forth on pages 2-3 of the office action of December 11, 2009.

Applicant's arguments and remarks have been carefully considered, but are not deemed to be persuasive. Applicant alleges criticality to the concentrations of Vitamin E, Carotenoids, Vitamin C, copper and Zinc. Applicant's attention is drawn to Lang reference, which teaches for example the concentrations of antioxidants at 2-10% and carotenoids at 10%. Such concentrations are within the range of the claimed concentrations. Furthermore, the use of the term "approximately" shows that the exact concentration of each component is not critical.
